The nucleus of the following work was an article entitled "Genealogy of Robert Ware of Dedham, Mass., by Miss Emma F. Ware, Milton, Mass.," printed in the N. E. Hist. Gen. Register for January, 1887; reprinted, by permission, in pamphlet form the same year. The work was subsequently completely revised by Miss Ware, and brought to its present scope.

PREFACE.

In the compilation of the following sketch the principal source of information has been the Town Registers. Copies of the records of over forty towns have been obtained from town clerks, the largest number of names being found at Wrentham. The marriage of the original Robert and the births of all his children are found at Dedham, and the descendants of his five sons can be followed for many years in an unbroken line in the records of Wrentham, Needham and Franklin. As the numbers increase, however, the difficulty of identification becomes greater, for until the present century, except in the births, the name of the parent is seldom given. At this point, then, family traditions and records become indispensable, and thanks are due to all those who have kindly assisted to make this record as complete as it is. Many of the omissions are due to the failure of various persons, town clerks and others, to respond to letters of inquiry.

In one case only has the information been derived wholly from private sources. Samuel[3] (No. 15) disappeared early from the Wrentham records, and no trace of him could be found. It was ~~only~~ by accident that a descendant was discovered in the West, and by this means a tolerably complete record of that branch has been obtained. To this branch belongs a member of the fifth generation, Thomas Ware* of Granville, Ill., now in his eighty-first year. As he was born the day his grandfather, Samuel,[3] died, two lives carry us back to within eighteen years of the lifetime of the first Robert; and if Robert had lived until 1717, as the father of six such long-lived sons as Ebenezer[2] and his five brothers might well have done, three lives would cover the whole period since the first settlement of the country. The average age of these six men was more than eighty years, and one of them lived to be ninety-seven.

In the course of this investigation a good deal of material has been collected, including not only some names which bring several branches down to the present time and others which have not yet been fitted into their proper place, but also wills, deeds and personal records and anecdotes for which there was no room in this brief outline.* One instance may be given: Eleazer Wood, father of Hannah Ware (page 18), was scalped by the Indians during the attack on Medfield, 1675–6, when a boy of fourteen. He survived, and afterwards married, but was "subject to mental aberrations" and died early. His descendants may here find a clue to eccentricities which have hitherto puzzled them. There is a tradition that the great-grandson who named his daughter China, would have named his son Crockery if his wife had not protested. Is not the cause of this freak to be looked for in the disaster that befel young Eleazer Wood as he and his brother were yoking their oxen that dim, cold February morning? Emerson says, "Every man is a bundle of his ancestors." We are what our ancestors have made us, and our descendants will be what their ancestors make them.

Whether this additional material is ever preserved in a more permanent form will depend largely upon the interest taken by the various members of the family in supplying the necessary further information, and also upon the demand for so expensive a work as this would be. The present sketch comes down late enough for almost any one to discover to which branch he himself belongs.

EMMA F. WARE.

MILTON, MASSACHUSETTS,
December 11, 1886.

* Although great pains have been taken to secure the correctness of the data in the following paper, it is impossible that no mistakes should have been made. All corrections, emendations and additions will be gratefully received by the compiler, as it is hoped as soon as possible to print a fuller account of the family, bringing the history down to the present time. Some facts have been obtained from a sketch printed in the REGISTER, vol. vi., in connection with Joseph Ware's journal of an expedition to Canada.

For the items relating to the Day and Wight families, the compiler is indebted to Mr. D. F. Day, of Buffalo, and Mr. W. W. Wight, of Milwaukee; for extracts from the records of Bristol County, Mass., to Mr. J. W. Wilcox, of Taunton, and Rev. W. L. Chaffin, of North Easton; for the topography of Dedham, to Mr. D. G. Hill, of Dedham, and Mr. C. C. Greenwood, of Needham.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

From the year 1887, when the Register article and the Pamphlet saw the light, till October, 1898, when her pen was finally laid down, Miss Ware did a very large amount of most careful work in gathering and compiling the annals of the family. She then felt that her task was practically completed, and longed for time and strength to see it in type.

Those who loved her most have not been willing that her noble endeavor should fail of its purpose, nor that the friends* who had coöperated with her should lose their joint "labor of love." For this reason the present publication is made; wherein Miss Ware's collections and writings concerning Wares and the children of Ware mothers are printed with the fewest possible changes of phrase or form. Her valuable notes upon Wares whose relation to the Dedham family was not proven, are placed in the Appendix for further study by those most interested. The article upon Wares in England has been compiled by another hand while the genealogy was passing through the press.

* Acknowledgments would undoubtedly have been made in print by Miss Ware to Messrs. Lyman Eugene Ware, Bruce Richardson Ware, George Gilbert Ware, and several others who assisted her very much in tracing out large branches of the family and gathering facts of great interest.

ENGLISH NOTES.

Compiled by the publisher chiefly from documents copied by Mrs. Francis B. Troup, Offwell House, Honiton, Eng.

THE county of Devon, from which many of the settlers of Maine and New Hampshire, a large part of the earliest inhabitants of Dorchester, and many other pioneers came, has been for centuries the home of numerous persons bearing the name Ware (in its various forms).

In deeds relating to the parish of St. Mary Arches, in the city of Exeter, land was conveyed 1 August, in the tenth year of king Edward IV [1471] by Thomas Weir, son and heir of Robert Weir of Exeter.

Richard Were, of Honiton Clyst, made his will 1 January, 4 Edward VI [1550]; minor sons Thomas and Edward; in case of their death before the age of 18, bequest to go to son John; to his father (who is sick) a gown that is at Exeter; residue to wife Joan and son John; mentions brother Edward. [Dean and Chapter].

John Weare, of Sowton, husbandman; will, 1583. To poor of Pinhoe and of Clist Honiton; wife Elizabeth; son Edmund under 21; daus. Margaret and Dorothy and son William Weare; father Edmond Weare. Overseers, John Pyne of Heavitree, Thomas Weare of Holbrook (Clist Honiton), William Ayton. [Archd. of Ex.]

Edmund Weare, yeoman, will dated 8 December, 1584. Wife Alice; son Thomas; children of son John; Grace, dau. of son in law Jherome Cheriton; children of sons in law John Hill, Henrie Coose and Richard Jervis; stewart, Henrie Weare; maid servant, Marie Hechman; Dennys Clerke, maid servant to son in law Gilbert Ponsford. Overseers, James Coose, Thomas Weare, my son, and Henrie Coose; witnesses Jherome Cheriton, clarke, Thomas Ware, James Peryam and John Lympanie. [Archd. of Ex.]

In Woodbury, Robert Warre and Christian Yeele were married 16 April, 1557.

Robert Weare and Joan Follett were married at St. Mary Arches, Exeter, 10 April, 1627. Robert Weare of Clist Honiton and Charity Carter of Pynhowe were licensed to marry at Exeter June 2, 1628; and Robert Weare of Ottery St. Mary and Thomasin, daughter of Anthony Butt of the same were licensed February 7, 1630-1.

Robert Weare of Whitstone, tailor, made his will Dec. 20, 1622; probated 25 March, 1623. Bequeathed to wife Joane, son Thomas, granddaughter Joane, daughter of son Thomas.

Robert Weare of Clyst Honiton made will 27 December, 1632. Begs his wife Joan to be a good mother to his children; bequeaths to son William best cloak and coat, and certain specified articles after the death of wife; daughter Elizabeth had made over certain rights in lands before her decease; daughters Jane, Joane, Dorothy and Katharine, all minors; son Robert Weare, a minor, to have lands at Farringdon, which are to revert to daughter Dorothy if he die before marriage. Cousin John Michell, William Bishopp, ffrancis Waldron and brother Nathaniel Weare, overseers. Witnesses, John Waldron, Nathaniel Weare and John Weare. Signed (with mark); seal, a fleur de lis. Inventory of Robert Weare the elder, who dyed the 7 day of November, 1633, made by William Bishopp, Nathaniel Weare and William Weare. Total 388 li. Proved 4 December, 1633.

Robert Weare the elder, late of Ottery, administration of his estate was granted October 29, 1646, to James Batt, during the minority of the children Robert, Roger and ffrances; bond by James Batt, yeoman, and Tristram Stoning, tanner, of Honiton. Witnesses, Matthew Bennett and Nicholas Pigeon. [Archd. Ex.]

Topsham, March 14, 1643, Hannah, dau. of Robert Ware and Elizabeth his wife, was baptized.

John, son of Roger and Christian Ware, bapt. 6 October, 1639; John, son of Henry and Sarah Ware, bapt. 28 December, 1639; John son of George and Dorothie Ware, bapt. 6 October, 1640; Margaret, daughter of John and Mary Ware, bapt. 13 October, 1640; John, son of John Ware, bapt. 5 March, 1642. [Ottery St. Mary.]

The following parish registers in Devonshire have been searched for traces of our man: Honiton Clyst, Farringdon, Ottery St. Mary, Silverton, and Feniton; and all wills and admins. which seemed likely to bear upon the subject; but no positive evidonce in the case has been discovered.

The identification of "Robert Weare" is not a simple matter. The residence of the bridegroom of 1627 is not stated, though it might be inferred to have been St. Mary's, as the marriage took place there. The groom of 1628 is located at Clist Honiton; but the man of this parish whose will we have here calls his wife Joan; he also has at least two children who must have been born as far back as 1611, since Elizabeth has made a deed of land and William is treated as "of age." The records do not tell us whether these were first or second marriages. The son Robert and four daughters are certainly under 21 years of age, but the dates of their birth can not be ascertained, since the parish registers of Honiton Clist are wanting till the year 1683.

The absence of the names of Robert's children at Ottery indicates that they were born before 1635; which points back to the marriage with Thomasin Butt in 1630. This would show the two Roberts exhibited in these Probate records as entirely separate men, each having a minor son Robert at the date of his death; of these juniors one was still a minor in 1646, four years after our pioneer was on Massachusetts soil; but the other was living in 1632, with a bequest which sounds as if he were well grown. And it is a natural inquiry whether this Honiton Clist youth may not have become the Dedham planter.

WARES IN ESSEX, KENT AND LONDON.

From printed transcripts of diocesan and parish records we extract the following items relating to the family in the Eastern part of England.

William Ware of Dengie, co. Essex, and Margaret Smith of Bradwell juxta Mare, said co., widow of —— Smith of Boston, co. Lincoln, husbandman, were licensed by the bishop of London to marry at Br. March 9, 1584–5.

Thomas Ware, clerk, of Orsett, co. Essex, and Mary Dewcye of St. Lawrence, Old Jewry, London, widow of Henry Dewcye of same parish, leather seller; license issued Dec. 2, 1589. The same gentleman was licensed Nov. 28, 1595, to marry Mary Kelly of Stepney, Middx., widow of Thomas Kelly, gent. of same parish.

John Ware and Elizabeth Meare of Ospringe, co. Kent, were licensed by bishop of Canterbury Dec. 8, 1578, to marry at St. Margaret's, Canterbury.

Elizabeth Ware, widow, of Ospringe, Kent, had license from bishop of Canterbury May 9, 1582, to marry Robert Sowget of same parish.

Elizabeth Ware, now of the city of London, widow of William Ware, late of Chidingstone, co. Kent, was licensed by bishop of London March 25, 1586, to marry John Bucklande, yeoman, at St. Antholin's, London; married same day.

Edward Ware of Staplehurst, yeoman, and Susanna Crowch, of Lydd, co. Kent, were licensed by bishop of Canterbury June 10, 1612, to marry at Burmarsh or Sellinge. Edward Ware of Staplehurst, clothier, bachelor, aged about 23, at his own government, was licensed by bp. of Cant. Sept. 21, 1621, to marry Amy Borden of Headcorn, maiden, about 19, dau. of Matthew B. of same parish, dec. and now in gov. of her mother Joan Borden, widow, who consents.

Margaret Ware, widow of Peter Ware, haberdasher, was licensed by bp. of London Nov. 4, 1623, to marry William Plowman, haberd. of Crooked Lane, Lond.; married at St. Michael's, Cornhill, Nov. 5; called "of St. Michael's, Crooked Lane".

Grissell Ware of Rayleigh, co. Essex, 30, widow of Anthony Ware, Esq. of the same, was licensed by bp. of London June 11, 1639, to marry Richard Hoper, Esp., of Lincoln's Inn, London, bachelor, 35; married at St. Mary, Woolnoth two days later.

Registers of the parishes referred to (and not yet examined) are extant from dates here following: Dengie, 1725; Orsett, 1669; Chedingstone, 1558; Rayley, 1548; St. Michael's, Crooked Lane, 1539; Bradwell by the sea, 1558; Staplehurst, 1538. No wills of persons here mentioned have yet been seen.

It is not unlikely that the family was found in other parts of England at the period of the making of New England; quite probably a careful search of parish registers and wills may result in the discovery of some positive evidence of the birthplace and parentage of Robert of Dedham or of others of the name who came early to our country.

WARE GENEALOGY.

"ROBERT WARE," as he signed his name, though called in public records by several different forms of the name, came from his English home to the colony of Massachusetts Bay some time before the autumn of 1642. The earliest date at which the name in any form occurs on the Dedham Records, is Nov. 25, 1642; when "Robert Weares is Admitted to the purchase of Thomas Eames his house lott and three acres of land."

The following items from the Dedham records show that this lot was on the "Great" or Dedham Island, and it probably became Robert Ware's house lot. Henry Deengaine had a house lot on the Great Island. June, 1640, Henry Wilson and Samuel Bullen were granted a parcel of land in the corner beneath and next to Deengaine. September, 1640, Thomas Eames was granted the parcel, four acres of upland, formerly granted to Henry Wilson and Samuel Bullen, next Mr. Deengayne's lot on the Great Island. This lot was bounded N. by waste; E. by swamp meadow; S. by Thomas Eames his swamp; W. by the highway. November, 1641, Henry Aldridge bought the northerly two acres of Thomas Eames his lot. December, 1641, Thomas Eames, Henry Deengaine, Austin Kalem, etc., were granted each two acres of swamp lying in the end of the swamp next the meadow in the Great Island. November, 1642, Robert Ware took the southerly two acres of Thomas Eames his lot; and also two acres of swamp south of it, which were bounded E. by waste swamp; S. by Austin Kalem; and W. by Henry Deengaine. The only highway at this time on the Island was the road leading from Cart Bridge (on Bridge Street) to the Great Causeway at the south end of Long Ditch, together with a small piece which, starting from near the bridge, curved to the east and north back into the other road at Ware's Causeway. [The northerly half of this curved road now forms part of Ames Street.] Robert Ware's house lot was probably at or near his Causeway.

A grant of land was made to him "6. 12. 1642," (6 February, 1642–3).

Various other grants were made to him of land in different parts of the town; on Dedham Island, and (in what was afterwards Needham), on Rosemary meadow brook, on the Great Plain, and near Magus Hill, etc. One lot of "three roods and twenty rod, more or lesse," was the second lot east from the N. E. corner of Webster Street and Great Plain Avenue in Needham. The localities mentioned can be found in the "Atlas of Norfolk Co., Mass.", Comstock & Cline, New York, 1876. See also Mann's Annals of Dedham.

Robert Ware joined the church at the time of the baptism of his eldest child, October 2 or 11, 1646. He was made freeman May 26, 1647; was member of the Artillery Company in 1644. He lived and died in Dedham, though three of his sons—John, Nathaniel and Robert—removed to Wollomonopoag, set off in 1661, incorporated as Wrentham in 1673. His name stands second in point of wealth on the tax list.

"Robert Wares" married first in Dedham "Margaret Huntinge 24, 1, 1645" (March 24, 1644–5),* daughter of John Hunting, first ruling elder of the Dedham church, and his wife Esther Seaborn. Margaret, the mother of all his children, died in Dedham, August 26, 1670; and Robert "Weare" married second, May 3, 1676, Hannah Jones (b. March 28, 1636, d. April 20, 1721), daughter of Thomas Jones of Dorchester. The following inscription is in the old Dorchester burying ground: "Here Lyes Buried | Ye Body of Hannah | Ware y^{e} Widdow | of Robert Ware | Aged 84 years | Departed this Life | y^{e} 20th day of April | 1721."

In her will, dated Jan. 21, 1720–1, proved May 1, 1721, she leaves legacies to "M^{rs} Esther Man, Widow of the Rev^{d} M^{r}. Man, late pastor of the Church of Christ at Wrentham," £5; "to the church of Dedham for to buy a Cup for the Communion Table £5;" to sons in law Robert & Nathaniel Ware; to Hannah Baker Dau. of Ebenezer Jones; to Mehitable Newel Dau. of my Brother Jones; to the Widow Elizabeth Metcalf; to my cousin Esther Flatingham of Boston; to my cousin Elizabeth Crocker £20 and £10 due from my sister Green deceased; Kinsman Thomas Crocker; Rebecah Green daughter of James Green late of Boston; the Surviving Daughter of Richard Green. Executors to sell a meadow bought of Joseph Fairbanks, giving the first profer of it to Son in law Samuel Ware; also land in Dorchester, "Giving Kinsmen Ebenezer Jones & Jonathan Jones the first Profer of them." After all Debts & legacies are paid the remainder of the Estate to be divided into five parts; one fifth each to John Green, Samuel Green, Elizabeth Crocker, Esther Flatingham; one Tenth part to Jonathan Jones; and one Tenth to Jonathan Clap in trust for Sarah, wife of Jonathan Jones. "But before the Division of my Estate into Fifth Parts my Will is if my Nephew Jonathan Jones shall faithfully deliver Me the money I Delivered Him to keep for Me, Or in Case of my Death shall render a True Account upon Oath thereof to my Executors Hereafter Named as being part of my Estate, and Shall not Demand any thing for my Board, Maintenance or Other Charges at His House, . . . I do give and Bequeath to Him . . . and His heirs My Two Acres of Salt meadow on the East Side of little Neck in Dorchester, And unto Sarah his Present Wife . . . Fourty Shillings as particular legacies." Deacon Jonathan Clap and Sergeant Ebenezer Clap Executors.

* As the new year began March 25, this date would naturally be translated 1645–6; but the context leads us to believe that it was a year earlier.

Witnesses: Elijah Danforth, Joshua george, Preserved Capen.

Ebenezer and Jonathan Jones were children of her brother Isaac; Richard, John and Samuel Green of her sister Rebecca, wife of James Green.

"Robert Ware the Aged" died in Dedham, April 19, 1699. His will, made February 25, 1698, was proved May 11, 1699. The inventory, taken May 3, was £250, 2, 10.

Notes on the Will of Robert Ware.

Island planting field.—Dedham Island, just north of Dedham village, formed by a bend in Charles River and the "Long Ditch" which unites the upper and the lower parts of the stream. It is about a mile and three quarters from north to south, and three quarters of a mile from east to west, and contains about 1200 acres. The "Planting field plain" is in the northern part of the Island. The "Long Ditch," about half a mile long, part of which is now the boundary between Dedham and Needham, was cut through the Broad Meadows in 1653. The "Great Causeway" is a narrow strip of land about quarter of a mile long, along the river on the S. W. of Broad Meadows; on this a road was laid out in 1644. "Ware's Causeway" is a small part of the road leading from the Great Causeway to Cart Bridge, on the western side of the Island.

Magus Hill is in the northern part of Needham (now Wellesley), just east of the Wellesley Hills station on the B. & A. R. R. The reservoir is on the summit. In 1681, John Magus and Sarah Magus, Indians, gave to the town of Dedham a deed of a tract of land lying within Dedham bounds, bounded N. by Watertown and Natick (now Weston), W. and S. W. by a line running from the mouth of Rosemary Meadow Brook on the N. E. to the mouth of Natick Brook on the S. W. Natick Brook runs through the two ponds in the western part of Wellesley, south into Charles River. It joins Dewing Brook near its mouth. The rest of what is now Needham, S. E. of this tract, had been deeded to Dedham the previous year by William Nahaton (Nehoiden) and his brothers.

Foule Meadow.—"Fowle meadows" lie on the Neponset River in the eastern part of Dedham and in Canton.

South Playne borders on the edge of the swamp southward of Ridge Hill in the southern part of Dedham. Clapbord trees is in the S. W. part of Dedham east of Buckmaster pond; it originally included the eminence where the West Dedham Church stands, with the land adjoining on the north and east. Stamping place is supposed to be a herding place for cattle, and to have been situated approximately in the space now enclosed within Linden and Washington Streets at Wellesley Hills. Before the division of the common lands, the feeding grounds for cattle were called "Herd Walks." One of these was on Dedham Island; one on East Street, and the third on South Plain. Chestnut Hill is about half way between Magus Hill and North Hill, Needham. Lands at the north end of planting field abutting on the pond north. The pond is Cow Island Pond, formed by Charles River, just east of the northern end of Long Ditch. Vine Rock is on the eastern side of Dedham Island, on the western bank of the river, half way between Cow Island Pond and the entrance to Mother Brook. The bridge just north of it, over which the road passes from Dedham to West Roxbury is Vine Rock Bridge. The Great Cedar Swamp was in the part of Dedham now Walpole, between the Plain and South Walpole. History of Norfolk County, page 709, in the will of Eleazer Ware, 1750, is mentioned "a piece of Cedar Swamp lying in the Dedham Cedar swamp so called."

Robert Ware's sons in Wrentham, John, Nathaniel and Robert, seem to have received their land as a part of portion during their father's lifetime.

The house of Ephraim,[2] essentially the same as formerly, is in Wellesley, on Oakland Street, opposite the end of Brookside Road. Photographs of this house (Nos. 445, 446) may be obtained of Holmes Bros., 19 Main St., Charlestown, Mass. The Indian Magus very probably lived near the spring which is just south of the house. The house of Ebenezer[2] was probably at the corner of Rosemary and Highland Streets, Needham. [C. W. Morton, on map.] Deacon Reuel lived and died in this house. The house of Josiah[3] (Nathaniel[2]), and later of his son Joseph[4], the journalist, stood, until 1886, on the north corner of Russell Place, just north of Ridge Hill in Needham (opposite "J. Cartwright").

CHILDREN OF ROBERT WARE,

THE IMMIGRANT.

The children of Robert and Margaret, all born in Dedham, were:*

2. i. JOHN,[2] Oct. 6, bapt. 11, 1646; d. April 7, 1718, Wrentham.
3. ii. NATHANIEL, Oct. 7, 1648; d. July 10, 1724, Wrentham.
   iii. MARGARET, Feb. 14, 1650–1; bapt. "1st, m. 1651"; d. July 22, 1664.
4. iv. ROBERT, Aug. 1, 1653; d. Sept. 16, 1724, Wrentham.

ix. Joseph, Sept. 8; bapt. 13, d. Sept. 22, 1663.
7. x. Ebenezer, Oct. 28, 1667; d. ——, 1765, aged 97, Needham.

Margaret, first wife of Robert Ware, the immigrant, was a daughter of John Hunting of Dedham, and probably came with her parents from England. Her mother, Esther (Hester) seems to have been a sister of Francis Seaborne, who made a bequest to her in England, as we see by her will. She died 4 (3) 1676. "Elder John Hunting" survived her and died April 12, 1688, confirming bequests made by his wife, and mentioning son-in-law Robert Ware and other children. See Pioneers of Massachusetts.

Abstract of Will of Hester Hunting.

Will of Hester Hunting wife of John Hunting of Dedham dated January 4, 1675 proved Feb. 12, 1684–5.

JOHN[2] WARE, born in Dedham, Oct. 6, 1646; died in Wrentham, April 7, 1718, in his 73d year. One of the settlers, 1671, of Wollomonopoag, incorporated as Wrentham 1673.* In March, 1675–6, the town was deserted by the settlers, who took refuge from the Indians in Dedham and elsewhere, and did not return till 1680. "1676—March Ye 30th Ye Inhabitance ware drawn of by rason of ye Endien Worre." "1680—August Ye 21st. The Revd Mr Man returned to Wrentham again and divers Inhabnts." (John, Nathaniel and Robert Ware among the number.) He is said to have built upon the "Bean Place"† as early as 1668. He was one of the first selectmen of Wrentham, 1686. Lieutenant and captain of the first military company.

John Ware's commission as Lieut. of the Foot Company of Militia in the town of Wrentham, signed by Gov. Stoughton, Aug. 5, 1696, is still extant. He seems to have served as lieutenant from 1689 to 1704, and as captain till 1715. The journal of the company was kept in a small book, six by four inches, written in a crabbed, almost indecipherable hand, and was filled with notices of musters, with the names and amount of fines of the absent and "defective"; the names of those "presst for Canada" or elsewhere, including those who "ran away," and the precautions taken against the Indians. At the end of the book are the following lines:—

> "He that is wise will Learn to prise > an art that is most skillfull > but as for fools theyel Spoyl all Town > and Live not wise but willfull."

Abstract of Will of John Gay.

Will of John Gay of Dedham, dated Dec. 18, 1686, proved Dec. 17, 1689.

"Imprs unto my well beloved wife Joannah Gay all my Moveables within doors and without chattel & chattels whatsoever to be wholly at her own use for the coumfort & support of her life." . . "if my sayd wife have sufficient to maintain her with those things farther given unto her in this my will, then she have full power to make a legall will & dispose of the said moveables to her children as she please, to be delivered unto them after her decease, if she need not the Improvement or worth of the principall to maintain her in her life time." . . . . "Also the full and free use of the South end of my dwelling house I now live in during the term of her naturall life and all the rent & revenues of my orchards and lands ingaged unto my selfe & unto her in a writeing under the hand and Seal of my Son John Gay, and the wintering of a Cow beast each year she live by my Son Jonathan Gay as under his hand & seal is ingaged.

Item, besides what my Loveing Son Samuel Gay have formerly had of me towards his portion I do farther add and give unto him the moyety or half part of those my Lands granted and laid out to me by Town of Dedham near Meadfeild bounds commonly called Meadfeild dividend.'" Gives unto his son Nathaniel Gay one half part of Lands granted & laid out to him in that division of Dedham lands near Medfeild, commonly called Medfeild dividend, and confirms a former gift of Land or whole common rights in all the Lands of Pecumtuck alies Dereficild in Hampshire. Gives unto his son Eliezer Gay all his common rights in Wrentham Town in all divisions of Lands yet laid out of all sorts, and in those hereafter laid out in all the bounds of Wrentham whatsoever. also all the legal rights he has in all those lands that lieth in Dedham bounds betwixt Wrentham and Mendon bounds.

All that may remain after his decease & the decease of his wife undisposed of to be divided into twelve parts to be disposed of as followeth:— To his son Samuel Gay two of said twelve parts which with what he has already received to be his whole portion; to his son Nathaniel Gay two of said twelve parts which with what he has already received to be his whole portion; to his son Eleazur Gay one of said twelve parts which with what he has already received to be his whole portion; to his son in law John Ware one of said twelve parts in right of his daughter Joannah Ware his wife which with what he has already given them to be their whole portion; to his son in law John Fuller in right of his daughter Judah his wife three of said twelve parts, which with what he has already given them to be their whole portion; to his son in law Daniell Hawse in right of his daughter Abiell his wife three of said twelve parts which with what he has already given them to be their whole portion. Confirms Deed or conveyance of gift & sale to his son John Gay of all those houses & lands of all sorts and common rights dated Dec. 18, 1686. Witnesses Richard Ellice, Thomas Battle, Joseph Weight. Confirms deed of gift to his son Jonathan Gay of two Acres of land upon which his dwelling house stands in Dedham dated June 28, 1682. Witnesses Thomas Battle and Joseph Wight. Also another deed of one half Acre of his house lot with explaination of the former deed, said half Acre of land expressed in that deed Jonathan Gay has sold to his brother John, which he approves of and confirms. Also confirms a deed given to his son Jonathan of all his uplands & meadows that lie adjoining or near to Andrew Dueings lands as bounded in said deed dated Dec. 1, 1686. Witnesses Thomas Battle, Joseph Wight, John Battelle and John Fisher.

All of which deeds he confirms on condition that the two Acres be at the use and Improvement of his Executrix and Executor to help towards the maintenance of his said wife. "My farther minde and will is that if the use and principall of what I have in this my will given to my dear and Loveing wife, together with the rents or yearly Income of my orchards or Lands prove not fully Sufficient for my said wifes coumfortable maintenance, then so much as is farther needfull to be aded shall be taken or defrayed out of my Estate due to me by bonds under the hands and seals from my Sons John Gay and Jonathan Gay, and the other halfe out of the Estate or proper charge of my Executor John Gay my loveing Son according as he have ingaged in his bond to me, in this last matter expressed my Executor is to take the advice of Ens. Richard Ellice and my Son Nathaniel Gay whose advice and determination is fully therein to be attended." In case his wife does not live to need use and full value & principall of what he has given her, then the same shall be equally divided among all his children. Appoints his wife Joannah Gay Executrix and his son John Gay Executor.

Robert,[2] born in Dedham, August 1 or 6 [Dea. Mann's Bible record], 1653; settled in Wrentham; died there, Sept. 16, 1724, in his 72d year. He or his son Robert was "impressed by virtue of a warrant from ye Major" in Dedham to serve in King Philip's war. "Taken at Dedham the 9th Day of Xber, 1675, for Capt. Samuell Mossely's Company; Saml Colburne, John Day, Robt Weare, Abra Hartway, Henry Ellitroop." There has been some question whether this Robert Ware was the father or the son, but the age of the first two recruits was about the same as that of the younger Robert; Colburne and Day being about twenty, and Robert Ware twenty-two. Married first in Dedham, June 4, 1677, Sarah, daughter of Michael Metcalf, Jr., and Mary Fairbanks (born in Dedham, Dec. 7, 1648, died in Wrentham, April 13, 1718). Robert[2] married second, Feb. 26, 1719-20, Elizabeth Holbrook, of Mendon (died in Wrentham, July 28, 1723).

A soldier in the Wrentham company in 1689; deputy in 1703. He was on the committee about the Meeting House, 1669. In 1671 he agreed with others to settle Wollomonopoag. In 1702 his tax was 12–10. He was one of the executors of the will of his brother-in-law, Rev. Samuel Man, in 1718.

Ephraim,[2] born in Dedham, Nov. 5, 1659 ; bapt. 19. 12. 59. He married in Dedham, July 13, 1685, Hannah Herring, probably daughter of Thomas and Mary (Pierce) Herring (d. July 10, 1738, in N.), and lived in the part of the town which became (1711) Needham. Thomas Hearin, Dedham, m. Feb. 15, 1650, Mary, daughter of Robert Pearse of Dorchester, who bequeathed to her and her "five children" in 1664; as four only are recorded up to that time, it is a fair inference that Hannah was the fifth. "The aged Ephraim Ware died In y[e] 94[th] Year of his Age as 'tis tho't, Mar. 26, 1753." [Needham chh. rec.]

Children, born in Dedham : *

i. Debora,[5] Feb. 17, 1685–6.
20. ii. Ephraim, Feb. 14, 1688–9 ; d. March 19, 1774, Needham.
21. iii. Robert, April 18, 1699 ; d. ——, Needham.

* Ephraim[2] is said to have had two sons and three daughters. The first two at least of the following marriages probably refer to children of his whose births were not recorded :

"Hannah Ware of Dedham and Eleazer Metcalf of Wrentham Sept. 6 1711" (Dedham).

"Margaret Ware and Samuel Frost Nov. 9 1725" (Needham).

"Abigail Ware and Hezekiah Broad, Mar. 5 1733-4" (Needham). [Sixth daughter of Ebenezer?]

Hezekiah, son of Hezekiah and Abigail Broad, born in Dedham, March 21, 1708. Eleazer Metcalf (Jonathan, Michael, Michael), born Feb. 14, 1687.

"Abigail Broad, wife of Hezekiah Broad of Natick deceased March ye 31st 1736." No issue recorded.

"Mr. Thomas Stedman, of Brooklyne, and Mrs. Hannah Metcalf, of Dedham," were married in Dedham, Nov. 18, 1729. In Reg. vi. Eleazer (Jonathan, Michael, Michael) Metcalf, b. Feb. 14, 1687, is said to have married Hannah Ware; no children given. Eleazer (Michael, Michael, Michael) b Feb. 12, 1684-5 (name of wife not given), is said to have had children Hannah and Deborah. It seems probable that it was Michael's Eleazer who married Hannah Ware, born about 1691 (probably daughter of Ephraim[2]), whose children would thus be named for herself and her sister; and that it was Jonathan's Eleazer who married Feb. 15, 1709-10, Judith George.

EBENEZER,[2] born in Dedham, Oct. 28, 1667, bapt. 3. 9. 67; died Jan. (?) 1765, in Needham. He is said to have had five wives, one son and six daughters. He married first in Dedham, March 18, 1689–90, Martha Herring, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Pierce) Herring (b. in Dedham, July 11, 1668, d. Jan. 30, 1709–10). His wife Elizabeth died in Needham, March 8, 1733–4. "Mehetabel Wife of Aged Ebenezer Ware died suddenly," Nov. 2, 1753. He married lastly, June 13, 1754, when 86 years of age, Ann Harrison. "The Deposition of Ebenezer Ware an aged man of Needham, dated Oct. 21, 1763 states that in 1693 he knew," etc. [Smith's Newton, p. 261–5.]

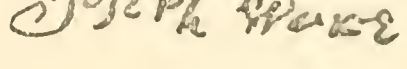
Joseph[3] (John[2]), born in Wrentham, June 2, 1681–2; died in Sherborn, Jan. 26, 1754; married Jan. 5, 1708–9, Hannah Wood, daughter of Eliezer[2] (Nicholas[1]) and Dorothy Wood, of Sherborn (born Feb. 11, 1688–9, died March 4, 1754), and removed to the Wood farm in Sherborn. In 1710, with Joseph Morse, he built the first grist mill on Sewall's brook; the privilege is still in the family of Joseph.[3] He purchased half the Hull estate from Judith Cooper, daughter of Judge Sewall, and built upon it a house which is still standing. It was occupied in 1856 by Major Goulding, a descendant. In 1885, owned and occupied by Thomas Colford, an Irishman. H. Ware, Sen., was born in this house. Hannah Wood inherited half this farm. His slave Duty planted the great elm tree near the house, three-fourths of a mile south of Sherborn common. [Morse's Sherborn.]



Children, born in Sherborn, were:

i. Hannah,[4] Aug. 10, 1710; m. in Sherborn, Dec. 27, 1753, Nathaniel Haven (of Hopkinton?), by Rev. Samuel Porter.

ii. Zipporah, Nov. 22, 1712; m. Curtis Goulding.

iii. ABIGAIL, April 27, d. May 6, 1715.

29. iv. JOHN, May 20, 1717; d. Sept. 18, 1779.

v. ELEAZER, Nov. 3, 1719; d. Aug. 18, 1722.

vi. ABIGAIL, Jan. 7, 1722–3; d. March 1, 1788; m. Sept. 2, 1742, Nathaniel, son of Dea. Henry Prentice, of Cambridge (d. Jan. 23, 1791 or 6, aged 81); settled on the S. quarter of the Hull farm in Sherburn; "both of Sherborn."

Children:

1. Abigail, 1745. 2. Anne, 1747. 3. Benjamin, 1750. 4. Stephen, 1752. 5. Hannah, 1755. 6. Hepzibah, 1758. 7. Sarah, 1760.

vii. JOSEPH, Aug. 3, 1725; d. March 31, 1743, unm.

viii. BENJAMIN, April 18, 1730; d. Feb. 25, 1754; "Capt."; m. Jan. 31, 1754, Mary Coolidge (James, John) (b. Jan. 7, 1731–2, d. March 11, 1813). No children. [She m. second, July 10, 1754, Samuel Bullard.] "Both of Sherborn." "Capt Ware was an able, enterprising man. He served as cornet of horse in an expedition against the Indians, and was selectman eleven years. About 1710, he in company with Capt. Joseph Morse built the first grist mill on Sewall's brook, and his slave Duty, being a better miller than Capt. Morse could supply, secured him all the custom, and induced my ancestor [Rev. Abner Morse, historian of Sherburn] to sell out, and the privilege has remained to this day in the family of Capt. Ware. The ancient Hull farm having descended through Hull's only daughter, Mrs. Judge Sewall, to her daughter Judith, wife of Rev. Dr. Cooper of Boston, Capt. Ware purchased of them for ——— the S. E. half of the same, consisting of 250 acres, Richard Sanger purchasing at the same time for an equal sum the N. W. half. Capt. Ware proceeded immediately, it is believed, to erect the venerable mansion yet standing on the N. side of Sewall's brook, upon the W. side of the road to E. Medway, known by the magnificent elm planted about the same time by his slave Duty; moved into it, and there spent the remainder of his days. His remains were interred in the desecrated burying ground at the S. end of Sherburn, where his elegant headstone may be found lying in the vicinity of the grave, if not yet thrown into Charles River." [Morse's Sherborn.]

Her sister Jerusha, b. Aug. 9, 1705, m. Sept. 26, 1723, Cornelius Kollock. Their son Cornelius, b. 1724, m. Sarah, dau. of Rev. Mr. Messin-

Stoughton, died in Wrentham, Dec. 1, 1738. Buried at Wrentham Centre.

Child:

i. JERUSHA,[4] July 18, 1730; d. Oct. 28, 1749; m. Jan. 14, 1745–6, Seth Brewster, in Wrentham.

Dr. Ware married second, May 14, 1741, Mrs. Melatiah (Fisher) Ware, widow of Jonathan[3] (Robert[2]), who had died April 20, 1740.

Children:

ii. SON, stillborn, Jan. 20, 1742–3.
iii. BENJAMIN, May 15, d. Oct. 31, 1744, "5 m's, 16 days."

[Mrs. Melatiah Ware married third, in Wrentham, July 15, 1745, Ephraim Leonard.]

Will dated June 14, proved July 31, 1744. Benjamin Ware, "Practitioner of Physick of Wrentham," to wife Melatiah, "what Indoor Moveables she brought with her;" one third part of personal estate forever; one third part of real estate and "Income of my part of a Grist Mill So long as she remains my Widow." To "nephew Cornelius Collock Student in Physick and now under my care all my Books of Physick and Surgery." To only son Benjamin "all my Homestead" and certain specified lots of land "and my part in the Grist Mill after the thirds are quitted by his Mother and also one hundred Pounds [old tenor] for his bringing up more than his Sister (he being an Infant)." Rest of personal estate to be equally divided between Jerusha and Benjamin. Jerusha to have the remaining part of all real and personal estate and moveables. and all Benjamin's share if he dies before coming of age. Brother Capt. Joseph Ware of Sherburn, executor. Witnesses: Ebenezer Cowell, William Puffer, Jr., Ebenezer Fisher.

NATHANIEL[3] (Nathaniel[2]), born in Wrentham, August 6, 1697; died there March 4, 1781, aged 83; buried at Wrentham Centre; ger, and d. Jan. 22, 1754. Physician. Jerusha is mentioned by Madam Knight, who stopped at her father's house on her journey from Boston to New York.

Royal Kollock, brother of Cornelius, was b. Aug. 18, 1726; Lemuel, Sept. 5, 1728.

"Capt. Ebenezer Billings through his father became an owner of a large tract of land in Sharon and Foxboro', and it is supposed that he built the first house in the Dorchester New Grant. It was on the road or path to Bristol and Providence, and was kept as a Tavern. His family, five or six sons settled around him, as they became of age. He died Feb. 25, 1717–8. His widow Hannah survived him 12 or 15 years. Ebenezer, his son, seems to have had the homestead and lived with his father; he was b. July 13, 1677, and m. Jerusha ——, the time I have not found recorded. I do not find the record of the birth of but two children: Jerusha, b. Aug. 9? 1705, Zebiah, b. Oct. 22, 1711. . . and there may have been others.

Jerusha m. Cornelius Collick (later, Kollock), Sept. 26, 1723, and their son Cornelius was b. 1724, month and day not given. Tradition makes Collick a sea captain, and that he found his future wife in the daughter of the tavern keeper where he stopped on his way across the country from Bristol to Boston." [Newton Talbot. 1888.]

"Capt."; married Jan. 25, 1726[-7], Priscilla, daughter of "Benj. and Presilia" Grant, born at Wrentham, Dec. 20, 1701. She died May 3, 1788, in 87th year.

The commission of Nathaniel Ware, gentleman, to be Captain of y^e^ Second Company in the Fourth Regiment, was signed by W. Shirley in 1746. Nathaniel[3]'s house in Wrentham was built 1674; repaired 1716. After the notice of a "general muster" at Dedham in 1713 is written in Nathaniel[3]'s hand: "Nathaniel Ware jr. was 16 years, 1 month and two days old, and was at said general muster." [E. A. Parks.]

Dr. William Ware was admitted to the Norton church from Wrentham in 1734; his wife Anna was admitted 1742. "He bought of John Finney Feb. 19, 1729 the farm now (1858) owned by Sandforth Freeman. . . . He had a liquor dealer's license. Sold his Norton farm Nov. 24, 1753. (Hist. of Norton.) He had "one quarter of a purchase right in Taunton north purchase," "by virtue of a deed dated March 20, 1732 from John Ware, junior, and Mehetabel Ware his wife, the daughter of William Briggs of Taunton." [Account of W. Ware in books of North Purchase Co. in possession of Rev. W. L. Chaffin, N. Easton.]

"I found several deeds from different people to Dr. Wm. Ware, showing that he must have owned a large tract of land in Attleboro and Norton, a large part of which I can identify. There are deeds to him from John Finney, John Hills, Daniel Whipple, Nathaniel Leonard, John Ware, jr., Joshua Barrows, and from him to Geo. Leonard and Ephraim Lane.

The last tract is now in the possession of Caleb S. Wetherell of Norton (a cousin of my mother) who married Cordelia Lane, only child of George and Chloe. She was great granddaughter of Ephraim. Among the original proprietors of Taunton North Purchase, I find the name of Jonathan Briggs, and this made me think that perhaps Wm. Briggs might be one of Jonathan's descendants, so I lost some time looking for a clue in that way. After some time I found a deed from Edward and Esther Andross to Wm. Briggs of Taunton, of land that was formerly Joseph Harvey's (father of Esther Andross) and originally belonging to Christopher Thrasher of Taunton, who was also an original proprietor in T. N. Purchase, and an ancestor of my own, my paternal grandmother having been Sophia Thrasher. This explains how Wm. Briggs became possessed of the land, afterwards deeded by John jr. and Mehitable Ware to William Ware, March 20, 1732. In this deed there is nothing to show how John jr. and Mehitable got this land, but I found another deed from John jr. and Mehitable Ware to George Leonard of Norton, 'of 25 acres of land which was our honoured father's, William Briggs, late deceased.' Dated May 30, 1732.

This shows conclusively that John Jr's. wife was the daughter of William Briggs of Taunton. This deed was signed as witnesses by John Ware, Mehetabel Ware and Mehetabel Ware, who must have been the father, mother and sister (afterwards Mrs. May) of John Ware Jr.

Also May 3, 1776, John Everett of Wrentham was appointed guardian of Nanny, over fourteen years, Paul, Eleanor, Leonard and Cyrus Ware, all under fourteen years, and children of the late Jonathan Ware of Mansfield." [I. W. Wilcox, March 19, 1887.]

i. Mary,[5] Feb. 13, 1727, in Wrentham; d. 1814; m. May 4, 1749, Col. Jonathan Eddy, son of Eleazer (John, Samuel) and Elizabeth (Cobb) Eddy (b. in Newton, 1726, d. Aug. 1804).

Children of Jonathan and Mary Eddy, born in what is now Mansfield:

1. Jonathan, b. Jan. 28, 1750; m. Rebecca Hicks; lost at sea, 1808.

2. William, b. Aug. 16, 1752 ; mar. Olive Morse, ; Lieut. in Continental Army ; shot by British while in an open boat, near Eastport, 1778.
3. Ibrook, b. Jan. 9, 1754 ; mar. first, Lona Platt of Mansfield, 1778 (b. 1760, d. 1802) and d. 1834, Eddington, Me. "Ibrook Eddy and Selah Coggeshall of Taunton m. in T. Ap. 7, 1806." (I. W. W.) Taun. Rec.
4. Elias, b. Nov. 30, 1757. [See Eddy Family.]

Col. Jonathan Eddy served all through the Old French war as captain in regiments commanded by Col. Winslow, Col. Doty and Col. Frye, in the last of which he raised a company in Mansfield. He served principally in Nova Scotia, and in 1763 removed thither with his family, and settled in Cumberland, (afterwards Sackville, New Brunswick), about 1763. On the outbreak of the Revolution, the Eddys and other Massachusetts men in the Province openly espoused the cause of the rebels, even going so far as to capture a vessel of one hundred tons in the harbor and conveying her with her valuable cargo to Boston. They also made an attack on the well built Fort Cumberland (formerly called by the French "Beau Sejour"). The attack failed, as might have been expected. The reprisals which followed by the royal party in the Province obliged the patriots to flee to the States, leaving their families behind. They reached Machias after a difficult journey of twenty-five days in the wilderness, in the depth of winter. The following spring, as William was returning to the Province to bring away his family, he was recognized by a provincial as he was crossing in an open boat, near Eastport, and shot. Col. Eddy and some of his companions then returned to Mansfield, but removed thence to Sharon in 1781.

"The town of Sharon in that year 'Voted not to receive as an inhabitant any of the persons hereafter mentioned who have come into the town to reside : — Col. Jonathan Eddy and family from Nova Scotia and others.' It was then the custom to pass such a vote to prevent the town from being liable for support of persons coming in." . . . The next year the freeholders of Sharon sent Col. Eddy to the Great and General Court! In 1784 Col. Eddy removed to Township No. Ten, east side of Penobscot river. This township was known later as Eddytown Plantation, and incorporated as the town of Eddingtown in 1811. In 1801 Congress granted land to refugees from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

DANIEL[4] (Josiah,[3] Nathaniel[2]), born in Needham, May 19, 1755; died Oct. 20, 1819,* 64 yrs.; "Esq." Served two terms of three months each as orderly sergeant in the army, and later filled various public offices in Needham. "Purchased and occupied a farm next to his father's."

"The name of Dagget was on the old map (1770). Esquire Daniel probably purchased of the Daggett family. Dea. Reuel lived and died here. The place is now owned by the Chamberlains. On the old map of 1770 the name of N. Ware appears. The farm is now owned by Lauren and John Kingsbury. You will find it on the map at the corner of Webster and High Sts. I am unable to locate the 'Cranberry Meadow'; very likely it was in the Rosemary meadows somewhere. I have marked the 'School ground' on the tracing of the map. It is located between the Colburn and Livingston house on the map. What is known here as 'Powell's Island' is a tract of upland near Charles river, surrounded by meadow. It is covered with wood. 'Shrufie land' is probably the same as Shrubby or scrubby land, and means a small growth of wood. 'Shruff, Light, dog wood, or stuff used for fuel.' [Webster.] I am not sure as to the location of the 'Rosemary Plain Road,' but I do not think that it was what is now Brookside Road. I think that it may have been some one of the roads at the northerly end of the 'Great Playne.' I have traced on the map some of the old roads. I have also marked the route driven over at the time of your visit. Very few of our roads were located as early as 1699. The oldest is undoubtedly the road from Dedham over the island to the 'Great Playne.'" [C. C. Greenwood, Needham, 1887.]

Married Sept. 16, 1784, Abigail Newell, daughter of Ebenezer (Josiah, Isaac, Abraham) and Elizabeth (Allen) Newell (born in Dover, Nov. 24, 1764, died April 20, 1849, aged 84).

Samuel[4] (Samuel,[3] Nathaniel[2]), born May 9, 1746; died at Heath, Mass., aged 83, Dec. 5, 1829. Removed before 1781 to Conway, Mass. "A gentlemanly and tender physician, cheerful and ingenious in his profession. His genial spirit made him many friends, and his constant public employment as a Justice of the Peace, &c., made him well known. He was of the salt of the earth." "Dr. Ware was a gentlemanly and tender physician, exact and neat in his dress, careful and temperate in his diet, very industrious, an early riser, cheerful and ingenious in his profession, and was sent for in towns seventeen miles distant. He said he had earned a good estate, while others were sleeping. He regretted he had not accepted his father's offer of a college education. After giving up his employment he seemed to live on the verge of heaven, and his body was apparently the temple of the Holy Ghost. His genial spirit gave him many friends, and his constant public employment made his name as present as the light of day which will not soon be forgotten. He was of the salt of the earth." [Written by his daughter, Mrs. Sally Bonney.]

Married Jan. 24, 1771, in Dedham, Bethiah Avery, daughter of William (William, William, William) and Bethiah (Metcalf) Avery of Dedham (born Jan. 26, 1749, died Dec. 2, 1843, buried at Heath).

* It is said that Jonathan was a very small man, and also that he was not very courageous, and sometimes his wife thought it necessary to use the rod of correction to break him of being so timid. His brother Ichabod did not like the training that his brother received, and proposed taking his place sometime when he expected the correction. So one night when the cows had not come home from pasture and it was getting dark, Jonathan's wife sent him for them. He hunted for them, but could not find them. On the way back he met his brother, and Ichabod said "Let us change clothes

He served in Capt. Samuel Day's company, Col. Miller's regiment, in 1758. Jonathan died intestate; inventory made and widow appointed administratrix, March 29, 1774. The estate was settled by Melatiah Everett, May 3, 1776; and on the same day John Everett was appointed guardian to Nancy (over fourteen), Paul, Eleanor, Leonard and Cyrus. Melatiah (Metcalf) Ware married, second,*

* The marriage with Job White was inserted on the authority of Judge Cyrus Ware, who wrote:—"My mother mourned four husbands; . . . . by her second, Job White of Mansfield, none." Other evidence, however, has proved that the marriage, though apparently contemplated, never took place, prevented probably by the death of Job White, which occurred Sept. 27, 1775, in his 50th year. In his will, dated the previous day, he leaves "to Mrs. Melatiah Ware two pounds for her to get morning with" Job White's second wife, Susanna, had died the previous February.

April 25, 1776, as his second wife, John, son of Ebenezer of Foxboro' (John, John, Richard of Dedham) and Joanna (Stevens) Everett, of Wrentham* (born June 1, 1736, in Methuen; married first, Abigail Nickerson; died in Foxboro', March 25, 1799). "A man of strong and penetrating mind, firm resolution, honest in dealing and successful in business." "Was never married. He followed his brother Abel to Maine and made a chopping in Solon. After a few years he sold his land for 150 bushels of rye, which he rafted down the Kennebec to Augusta, in barrels made by himself, and exchanged it for powder, shot, tea and other articles. At Norridgewock he worked at his business as a cooper, and by degrees established a trade in provisions, etc., with the settlers and Indians. Representative to General Court of Massachusetts, 1808–9; gave land and money toward the erection of county buildings after the separate organization of the State of Maine in 1820. In 1817 he moved to Athens, where he also engaged in trade. His success in business was so great that at his death he was probably the wealthiest man in Somerset Co." [Hist. of Norridgewock, Me.]

He married in May, 1785, Polly, daughter of Elkanah (Samuel, John, John) and Alice (Beal) Andrews, born in Dighton, Feb. 26, 1768. Nov. 4, 1788, George Ware of Dighton was appointed the guardian of "Polly Ware, daughter of Elkanah Andrews, she being a minor, over 14 yrs." (His wife.) She married second (pub. May 13, 1809), Dr. William Wood, of Dighton, formerly of Swanzey. (One daughter, Adeline Wood, married Dr. Charles (Seth, Allen) Talbot of Dighton.)

EPITAPH.

"Erected to the memory of Dr. George Ware, who died Jan. 7th, 1805, in the 44th year of his age.

The friend, the comfort, of the sick and poor,
Want never knocked unheeded at his door.
Oft, when his duty called, disease and pain
Strove to confine him, but they strove in vain;
All mourned his death, his virtues long they tried;
They knew not how they loved until he died."

* Nice Legal Point to be Determined. Chicago, Feb. 10.—The mysterious murder of James L. Willson and his wife Clarissa, at Winnekta, Ill., in February, 1884, was brought before the public again yesterday by a bill filed in the superior court by W. H. Talbot of Boston, Mass., asking for the partition or sale of the personal estate of Mrs. Willson, together with certain town lots in Fremont, Tazewell County, Ill., and all her real estate in Dighton, Bristol County, Mass. Mrs. Willson had devised her property to her husband, but it is charged that there is no existing evidence proving that James L. Willson survived his wife so as to take under her will. For this reason it is claimed that the bequest and legacy lapsed, and that the property devised and bequeathed to the husband descended to the heirs at law of the testatrix just as if no will had been made by her. Talbot is Mrs. Willson's nephew. James L. Willson's will devised his property to several members of his family. An attempt will be made to ascertain whether Willson died at the same time or subsequent to his wife's demise.

"He was fitted at the Boston Latin School, and graduated at Harvard College in 1852. On leaving college he entered the Harvard Medical School. He went to Europe in May, 1854, returning in Sept., 1855, six months of this absence being passed in Paris, where he studied in the hospitals. Graduating from the Medical School in 1856, he began the practice of his profession in Boston. In July, 1857, he was appointed one of the district physicians of the Boston Dispensary. On the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion he was one of the first physicians to enter the service of the Sanitary Commission in 1861. He was subsequently appointed surgeon of the 44th Regt. Massachusetts Volunteers, which left Boston in October, 1862. His last illness was brought on during the siege of Little Washington, N. C., by the unusual labors required of him among the negroes, as well as in his own regiment; he was at this time without the aid of his assistant surgeon. To these labors he gave himself unsparingly."

Though suffering severely at times from the heavy marches his regiment was called upon to perform, he never lost a day's duty by reason of it. He was never off duty or absent from his company except by reason of wounds received in battle. He was mustered as third corporal, was promoted to the rank of first sergeant, and was commissioned lieutenant by the governor of New Hampshire, but was not mustered as such, owing to the early muster out of his regiment. He was wounded twice at Fredericksburg, once at Cold Harbor, and again at Fort Harrison. He was an intelligent, brave soldier, and universally liked by the officers and men of the regiment." [Hist. 13th Reg. N. H. Vols.] He was mustered out June 21, 1865, having been in twelve battles, wounded four times. He resided a few years in Dublin (now Harrisville), N. APPENDIX.

Henry Ware, the ninth of the ten children of John and Martha (Prentiss) Ware, was born in Sherburne, Mass., on the first day of April, 1764. He was a feeble child, but by the help of a peculiarly tender care on his mother's part, his constitution acquired strength. He had small advantages of early instruction in book knowledge, the school being kept only from six to ten weeks in the winter season, and the rest of the year being employed in the lighter work on his father's farm. He early formed the plan of going to college, however, and with the generous aid of his brothers he was fitted by the minister of the parish, Rev. Elijah Brown, to enter the freshman class at Cambridge in 1781. His college course was full of honors, and at his graduation he delivered the Latin Valedictory oration. He at once began to prepare for the ministry, at the same time taking charge of the town school of Cambridge. In 1787 he began to preach, and was ordained over the First Church in Hingham, Oct. 24, of the same year.

About two years later he married Mary, the daughter of Rev. Jonas Clarke of Lexington. He remained in Hingham eighteen years, and was "conspicuous in the first rank of the clergymen of the day in all the accomplishments and graces that become that character. His services as a preacher were held in the highest esteem by the people of his charge and in the neighboring churches. * * He was especially valued by those most competent to estimate correctly the rectitude and delicacy of his character and the resources of his mind."

In 1805, in the forty-first year of his age, he was elected to the chair of the Hollis Professorship of Divinity in Harvard College; he was inaugurated on May 14th, and removed to Cambridge in June. This election marks an era in the history of the Congregational churches of New England. It was vehemently opposed by a portion of the clergy and other leading men, on the ground that Mr. Ware's theology was of so liberal a character that it was not right to place him in a professorship intended to inculcate and maintain Calvinistic doctrines. As a matter of fact, Thomas Hollis of London, Eng., who had founded the professorship in 1719, was not a Calvinist but a very liberal Baptist, who had required in his deed of gift only that his professor should "believe in the Scriptures as the only perfect rule of faith and manners," and should promise to "explain the Scriptures with integrity and uprightness, according to the best light that God shall give him." Mr. Ware took no part in the controversies occasioned by his appointment until, in 1820, by the advice of friends, he published a Reply to "Letters to Unitarians," by Dr. Woods, and followed up for several years the discussion thus begun. Meanwhile he was devoted to the regular duties of his position, preparing elaborate lectures on religion and conducting the instruction of classes. He also took his share in the Sunday pulpit service in the College chapel after its establishment in 1814, and was twice invested with the temporary government of the College in the interims between two presidential terms. He also, being a genuine and active lover of reform and progress, devised in 1811 a course of regular exercises with the students of Divinity who remained in Cambridge after their college course was completed,—a course which proved to be the germ of the Divinity School, established in 1819, with the appointment of professors to various theological subjects, and formed into a permanent system with the addition of his son, Henry Ware, Jr., to fill the newly-endowed chair of Pulpit Eloquence and Pastoral Care, in 1830.

Dr. Ware devoted himself to these varied labors with ability and diligence and with unabated powers for more than thirty-two years. In 1840 he underwent an operation for cataract on the eye, which was unsuccessful, and from this time till his death in 1845 he was mostly confined to his home.

"Henry Ware's was a character of mark. I have known few minds so sagacious, none more firm, more calmly balanced, more candid or more just. Its influence has operated extensively. Nearly all the ministers of one of the principal Christian denominations in the country have been his pupils."

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF CAPT. NATHAN WARE, JR., WRITTEN BY HIMSELF. [ABSTRACT].

"I was born of parents not wealthy; my mother was a feeble woman, much under the Dr.'s care; so myself, one brother and one sister did much to maintain our parents.

I was noticed at four or five years old as being the first to rise in the morning and out to play or work. At eight and a half years I left my home to live with a man nicknamed 'Skinflint.' I dropped corn, drove oxen to plow, had my board until I was nine and a half years; after this I was to have my board and clothes until I was sixteen. This was a hard place. . . . All the time I stayed with him he gave me only six 'coppers,' and no way of making any except to shell corn for one cent a bushel after I had done my stint.

This was his plan I suppose to see how much he could get out of me, as he knew I had a good taste for a copper; he raised a great deal of corn, and kept it in the attic. Stormy weather and winter evenings I shelled his corn with a shovel and tub. At twelve years old, having a good taste for taking care of cattle he trusted me to take care of them, some eighteen in number; some days he would not go to the barn at all. When I could have all day to shell corn my stent was six bushels a day and take care of the cattle, with the priviledge of one cent a bushel after my stent was done. I gained two bushels, then he stented me eight bushels besides taking care of the cattle; I got so I could shell ten bushels; this drawed upon his purse; he thought I ought to have twelve for my stent. This I did not do, for I could not and take care of the cattle, so my money making was done. I did, however, trap two birds, which brought me three coppers. My mother gave me six coppers to encourage me to stay there. Coppers were worth more to look at then than dollars are now. At the age of fourteen I left him, barefoot and thinly clad; it was warm weather. He liked me and wanted me to stay with him, as he could get no other boy that would stay. Now this man was rich, had a good farm, and money at interest; the season I left him he sold his farm for two thousand dollars, such a farm at this day would bring six thousand or more. After I left this place I let myself one year for twenty dollars, a top price in those days. The next year I worked by the day, week or month, thrashing, breaking flax, chopping wood; from the age of seventeen to nineteen I bought grain some twenty or thirty miles from home and supplied the 'Flag Co.' Also bought butter, cheese and pork and sold to my neighbors. At nineteen I helped cut timber on the North Wrentham road to build the meeting-house with, also helped build the meeting-house. In eighteen hundred I came to Walpole to labor for a man named Seth Smith; he hired me for six months for seventy dollars; at the end of six months he again hired me for a year for one hundred dollars. After I had lived with them about two and a half years I married their only daughter; her father owned a farm worth, in those days, about three thousand dollars, which was left her after their decease.

When I was married I had five hundred dollars of my own earnings; this was double the amount any other young man [in the neighborhood] could show. The next year there was a large house to build, and as the parents were aged, the planting, cutting some of the timber off the farm, buying the rest, hauling the brick from Dorchester, all fell on me. Most of the remainder of my days were spent in buying and selling goods of all kinds, trading, &c., going from Boston to Providence and New York with teams.

I was always well and strong, called 'iron constitutioned'; always first to take hold in the morning and last to give out at night, and am spared to the advanced age of eighty-four years to write these facts; my limbs are weak but my mind and memory are strong." [See Nos. 16, 44, 115 and 259.]

UNIDENTIFIED WARES.

Besides the descendants of Robert Ware, there have been in the United States several other families, descended from emigrants who, as far as is known, had no connection with each other, though they may have come from the same stock in England.

"William Weare," shoemaker, a citizen of Dorchester, Massachusetts, was admitted to the church 17 2 1630; was one of the ruling elders in 1640, according to Lechford; an arbitrator in a lawsuit. Removed to Boston. He died Feb. 11, 1657; will signed and dated March 26, 1656, probated 1 April, 1658. Names wife Elizabeth; daughter Sarah; grandchildren Obediah and Elizabeth Gill; lands and house in Boston and Dorchester. John Gill, mariner, and Edward Grant, ship carpenter, husbands, respectively, of his daughters Elizabeth and Sarah, confirmed a deed of land at Dorchester made by the widow, July 9, 1661. [Rec. and ... 256.]

The fact that he mentioned only his daughters and the children of that one who was then married, does not preclude the possibility that he had other children; nor does his spelling of the family name —"Weare"—separate him from any who spelled it "Ware," so imperfect were the documents of those days, and so little care did men exercise in spelling. But there is no evidence in our possession to show that William had any other children beside Elizabeth and Sarah.

Nicholas Ware married Anna, daughter of Mr. William Vassall of Scituate; July 18, 1657, he joined with other heirs of Mr. Vassall (who had removed to Barbadoes) in a deed of land; the document does not state his residence, which may be conjectured to have been at Barbadoes from the circumstance that he sent a letter of attorney for the business; yet he may have lived at Scituate at a previous time. But we know nought of his descendants.

Peter Weare (Wier, Wyer, Wyre), was a resident of York, Maine, very early; had a lawsuit in court at Piscataqua in 1640; was one of the witnesses to an Indian deed of land to Humphrey Chadbourne in 1643; bought land at Cape Nuddocke Beach, 18 Oct., 1644; had a grant of land from the town in 1646. [York Deeds, I.] Took oath of allegiance to the Massachusetts government, 22 Nov., 1652. He deposed 7 Dec., 1658, relative to land grants made fourteen or fifteen years before. He was a faithful friend of the Massachusetts Bay authorities, and was imprisoned for that cause by the Royalist officials when they attained power. He petitioned for suitable recompense for his sufferings; had been lame many years. [See the Baxter Manuscripts.]

He died before April 18, 1692, when the inventory of his estate was taken; his widow Mary presented it in court Nov. 1, following. [York Deeds, V.] She made her will 21 Jan., 1719, and died before April 7, following, when it was probated. She bequeathed her estate to her children Hopewell and Daniel Ware, Mary Roberts and Sarah Nowell, and to her son-in-law, Nowell.

Robert Wier or Wyer of Boston, by wife Mary, had a son John, born 1(9)1646. Whether "Daniel Ware" who by wife Lidia had son Daniel, born 12 Oct., 1700, in Boston, was a son or grandson of this Robert is a point worth investigating. Edward Wyer had land assigned him by Charlestown, on "Misticke Side," in 1657-8; married Elizabeth Johnson, Jan. 5, 1659, and had children, one of whom, Robert, was an innholder in 1705.

Nathaniel Weare or Ware was a resident of Haverhill and a land-owner in the year 1645. His daughter Hester married 1(9)

1647, Benjamin Sweet, of Newbury. Either he or a son of the same name married Elizabeth, daughter of Elizabeth Swain of Hampton and Nantucket, and had descendants, among whom Mesheech Weare of Portsmouth is particularly notable. [From a letter of the late W. M. Sargent of Portland, Me.]

Joseph Ware came to New Jersey with Fenwick's Colony, in 1675. He had two sons, Joseph, b. 1681, and John, 1685; both left numerous descendants, many of whom are still living in New Jersey. A Benjamin Ware, b. about 1700, who has descendants, probably belongs to this family. [Notes and Queries in Boston Transcript, No. 10,943, by W. B. T. who refers to Shinn's History and Genealogy of Fenwick's Colony, p. 329–41.]

Robert Ware, of New Portland, Maine, married Jemima Hunt of Mt. Vernon, Me. (intention entered in both towns "2-1-1814," certificate issued "2-24-1814"). The New Portland record has a statement of the date of his own birth—"May 21st, 1784"—preceding the record of the birth of his daughter, Mary Jane, born "Dec. 12th, 1814." He removed to Burlington, Iowa, and there died "10-11-1865"; his wife died there "4-20-1859." Tradition refers his parentage to a sire named Robert Ware, of whom it tells some stories of naval service; and locates the son in Wrentham in childhood and at Cambridge in early manhood; but these points have not been established.
